The CBS Inc. Amelia Rix Award

ISO 9001:2015
QUALITY CERTIFIED
ORGANISATION

Community Bridging Services (CBS) Inc.

“All winners from the past 15 years have gone on to become successful employees making positive contributions to local communities.”

Freddie Brincat OAM

The CBS Inc. Amelia Rix Award was established in 2003 by the Executive Director of Community Bridging Services (CBS) Inc., Freddie Brincat OAM, to commemorate the courage and determination of former Jobnet client Amelia Rix in her efforts to secure employment. Amelia sadly passed away in 2003.

All of the Award winners have gone on to become successful employees who continue to make a positive contribution to their local communities. All they had needed was a start from others who could see their strengths and the positive future that was ahead.

The purpose of the Award is to acknowledge clients who have successfully gained employment through their determination, and to encourage success through understanding and support in a non-judgemental environment by developing a person's strengths and interests. Each year, through a nomination process, a CBS Inc. Jobnet client receives $1,000, while the Runner-Up receives $400 and all other nominees receive $100 and Encouragement Certificates. These are presented at a prestigious award ceremony hosted in an evening in November.

Any Jobnet client who successfully obtained a job may nominate. All nominations address a set criteria.

Sponsorship

CBS Inc. relies on sponsorships and donations for the Award to continue. There are three levels of sponsorship with a range of benefits.
